MEMORANDUM

SUBJECT: Reported Location of a Prisoner of War Camp for South Vietnamese and U.S. Prisoners in Kompong Speu
Province, Cambodia

1. In late October 1971 a prisoner of war (POW) camp holding American prisoners was located in the vicinity of Peam Khley (VT309668), Kompong Speu Province, Cambodia. The specific location of the prison was described as being in a jungle area about seven kilometers north of Route 4. The camp was reported to contain Army of the Republic of Vietnam prisoners captured in Cambodia, as well as American prisoners. Many of the prisoners had been moved to this camp from other POW camps which had been flooded during the rainy season.

2. Enemy forces in the area of the camp consisted of elements from the 1st North Vietnamese Army (NVA) Regiment and four battalions of Khmer Communist troops. NVA cadres are responsible for the indoctrination of prisoners in the camp, and the camp is kept under tight security.

3.  Comment: There is no available information to confirm the existence of this POW camp.
